Bridgeway Funds, Inc.
Privacy Policy
October 25, 2025

As the investment adviser and administrator for Bridgeway Funds, Inc. (the "Funds"), Bridgeway Capital Management, LLC (the "Adviser") invests the assets of the Funds and manages their day-to-day business. On behalf of the Funds and the Adviser (collectively, "Bridgeway"), we make the following assurances regarding your privacy.

This policy ("Privacy Policy") describes the types of information we may collect from you or that you may provide when you visit our website, bridgewayfunds.com (our "Website"), and our practices for collecting, using, maintaining, protecting, and disclosing that information.

Please read this Privacy Policy carefully to understand our policies and practices regarding your information and how we will treat it.

Bridgeway's Commitment to You

We work hard to respect the privacy of your personal and financial data.

No Sale of Your Personal Data

Bridgeway does not sell Personal Information (as detailed below) of its shareholders or anyone else who visits our Website to any other party, and we have no plans to do so in the future. As a Fund shareholder, you compensate the Adviser through a management and administrative fee; this is how we earn our money for managing yours.

We'll Keep You Informed

As required by federal law, we will notify shareholders of our Privacy Policy annually. We reserve the right to modify this policy at any time, but rest assured that if we make a material change, we will promptly notify all shareholders and post the updated Privacy Policy on the Bridgeway Funds' Website. All users of our Website, including shareholders, can access our Privacy Policy from the Bridgeway Funds' Website.

By accessing or using the Bridgeway Funds' Website, you agree to this Privacy Policy, and your continued use of the Bridgeway Funds' Website after we make changes is deemed to be acceptance of those changes, so please check the policy periodically for updates. You can determine when this Privacy Policy was last updated by checking the "Last Updated" line posted at the end of this Policy.

The Information We Collect About You

When you complete a Bridgeway account application or when you request a transaction that involves Bridgeway, either directly or through a third-party fund platform, we may collect your Personal Information including your:

- Name, address (including e-mail address), and phone numbers,
- Social security or taxpayer identification number,
- Birth date and beneficiary information (for IRA applications),
- Basic trust document information (for trusts only),
- Copy of your driver's license or passport,
- Account balance, and
- Investment activity.

In addition, by using Bridgeway Funds' Website, we may collect other Personal Information automatically as you visit our Website through the use of cookies and other tracking technologies, including:

- Information about your internet address (which provides information on your geographic location),
- Information about your device, browser type, or operating system, and
- Information about your internet activity.

The foregoing bullet points are collectively referred to as "Personal Information."

How We Use Your Personal Information

We do not sell information about current or former shareholders, their accounts, or anyone else who uses our Website to third parties. We use your information, including any Personal Information, primarily to complete your investment transactions (including processing purchases, redemptions, and exchanges) or account changes as directed by you. We use the information that you provide to us:

- To create, maintain, customize, and secure your account with us; to complete any account changes that you direct; and to provide you with notices and other disclosure documents related to your account, such as prospectuses, proxy materials, and shareholder reports.
- To provide your account with support and respond to any inquiries you may have, including investigating and addressing your concerns and monitoring and improving our responses.
- To communicate with you about other financial products that we offer.
- To support, personalize, and develop our Website and financial products and services.
- To perform identity verification and detect and prevent fraud.
- To help maintain the safety, security, and integrity of our Website, products and services, databases and other technology assets, and business.
- For testing, research, analysis, and product development, including developing and improving our Website, products, and services.

- To respond to law enforcement and regulatory requests and as required by applicable law, court order, or governmental regulations.
- To evaluate or conduct a merger, reorganization, dissolution, or other sale or transfer of some or all of our assets.
- To notify you about changes to this policy.
- As otherwise permitted by law, such as for purposes as described to you or with your consent.

When We Disclose Your Information

When disclosure is necessary or permitted by applicable law, we may disclose the information that you provide to us, including any Personal Information:

- To non-affiliated contractors, service providers, or other third parties we use to support our business and perform services for us, such as processing orders for share purchases and redemptions and distribution of shareholder letters. For example, if you ask to transfer assets from another financial institution to the Funds, we will need to provide certain information about you to that company to complete the transaction. In all such cases, we provide the third party with only the information necessary to carry out its assigned responsibilities (in the case of shareholder letters, only your name and address) and direct such third parties to only use your information for the purpose it was provided. We require these third parties to treat your Personal Information with the same high degree of confidentiality that we do.
- To a buyer or other successor in the event of a merger, divestiture, restructuring, reorganization, dissolution, or other sale or transfer of some or all of Bridgeway's assets.
- To fulfill the purpose for which you provided it.
- For any other purpose we disclosed when you provided this information or any other purpose with your consent.

We may also disclose your Personal Information:

- To comply with any court order, law, or legal process, including responding to any government or regulatory request.
- If we believe disclosure is necessary or appropriate to protect the rights, property, or safety of Bridgeway, our customers, or others. This includes exchanging information with other companies and organizations to protect your account from fraud.
- If you direct us to do so.

Cookies and "Do Not Track" Signals

Cookies are files with a small amount of data which may include an anonymous unique identifier. Cookies are sent to your browser from a website and stored on your device. Bridgeway uses cookies set by us or other companies for tracking purposes or to make our services easier to use and tailored for individual users. Our Website uses third party services to help us evaluate the performance of our Website and to give us information about how online visitors use and interact with our Website. These services use cookies to collect authentication details, online identifiers, cookier identifiers, IP addresses, browsing history, device identifiers, activity log files and user names. One of the third-party services we use is Google Analytics. To learn more about how Google Analytics uses information from sites or apps that use its service, please see Google's Privacy Policy, which is accessible here: https://policies.google.com/privacy.

Bridgeway does not currently respond to "Do Not Track" signals from browsers, but you can instruct your browser to refuse all cookies or to indicate when a cookie is being sent. If you set your browser to not accept cookies, this may limit the functionality we can provide to you when you visit our Website.

How We Safeguard Your Personal Information

We restrict access to your information, including Personal Information, to those Bridgeway representatives who need to know the information to provide products or services to you. We use security measures that comply with federal law including reasonable physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to protect your Personal Information from unauthorized access and use.

What You Can Do

The safety and security of your Personal Information also depends on you. You are responsible for keeping your login information for our Website confidential. For your protection, we recommend that you do not provide your account information, username, or password to anyone except a Bridgeway representative as appropriate for a transaction or to set up an account. If you become aware of any suspicious activity relating to your account, please contact us immediately.

Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we do our best to protect your Personal Information, including the use of encryption and other controls, we cannot guarantee the security of your Personal Information transmitted to our Website. Any transmission of Personal Information is at your own risk.

Fund Marketplaces or Other Brokerage Firms

Most Bridgeway shareholders purchase their shares through fund marketplaces. Please contact those firms for their policies concerning privacy issues.

Your California Privacy Rights

If you are a California resident, you have additional rights regarding your Personal Information that are not already protected by existing federal privacy laws. To learn more about your California privacy rights, visit: https://bridgewayfunds.com/wp-content/uploads/sites/2/2024/09/Bridgeway-Funds-CCPA-Privacy-Notice-20240917.pdf

Your Nevada Privacy Rights

If you are a Nevada resident, you have the right to opt-out of the sale of covered Personal Information. We do not currently sell covered Personal Information. If you would like additional information, please contact us at funds@bridgeway.com.

International Visitors

Our Funds' services, including our Website, are based in the United States of America, and all information we collect, including Personal Information, is securely stored on servers located in the USA. By accessing our services, you acknowledge and consent to the transfer of your Personal Information to the USA, which may not provide the same level of data protection or data rights as your home country.

Children under the age of 16

Our Website and services are not directed toward children. Except to the extent required to provide our products or services to you, we do not knowingly collect or utilize information from children under the age of 16.
